

XO® WAVELENGTH SOLUTIONS

For organizations with bandwidth-intensive or latency sensitive applications, XO Wavelength Solutions deliver a reliable, high-capacity networking solution. Wavelength Solutions are ideal when your organization needs to move large amounts of data, provide disaster recovery or large bandwidth redundancy, carry real time video, connect large data centers, or provide near real time transaction processing.

With choices of 2.5 and 10 Gbps clear channel, 1 and 10 Gbps Ethernet and 1 and 2 Gbps Fibre Channel, XO can meet most demands for regional and inter-city solutions. Increase productivity, save money, and boost the efficiency and performance of your applications with Wavelength.

With XO Wavelength Solutions, you:

- Ensure optimum speed performance—when sending data between locations
- Gain faster upgrade intervals and management control—because XO owns and manages its own robust network
- Realize 24x7x365 performance monitoring and management
- Access the award-winning XO network—one of the largest and most advanced IP networks in the U.S. with the nationwide reach and local presence for door-to-door delivery of your data traffic
- Benefit from our network investments—to bring you reliable and scalable network infrastructure that supports current and next-generation bandwidth and service needs
- Accommodate multiple protocols—including Ethernet, SONET, and storage protocols

In addition, XO Wavelength Solutions:

- Reduce the costs and responsibility of buying, configuring, and managing your own fiber network
- Fulfill network redundancy and diversity requirements—to comply with network redundancy and diversity requirements including government Continuity of Operations (COOP) mandates
- Simplify your networking administration—by gaining everything on one invoice, through one provider.

Why XO? Quite simply, it's our network

XO® has a wealth of network assets to handle your current needs, and our ongoing investments ensure that we are well positioned to support your growth. Our award-winning network leverages the latest digital optical technology and has terabit capacity deployed nationwide, enabling XO to offer a broad range of high-speed network transport services where and when you need it.
